

New At 6

News Anchor: Tonight at six, a window cleaning company chose to perform a random act of kindness today.

Window cleaner cleaning exterior windows of Adaptive Communities building.

News 9 abc

FISH Cleans Adaptive Communities' Windows As random act of Kindness

Fish Window Cleaning spent the early afternoon at Adaptive Communities in Wausau making those windows squeaky clean. You can even hear it.

Adaptive Communities members inside building while window cleaner cleans outside windows.

It's part of a nationwide effort by FISH franchise groups. Adaptive Communities provide social activities to adults with special needs.

Window cleaners removing equipment from branded vehicle.

The local FISH owner says Adaptive Communities deserve this act of kindness.

Tony Ungerer in front of Adaptive Communities building sign.

Tony Ungerer

FISH Window Cleaning

Tony Ungerer: My thing is, you know, we're just going to give back. You know, we all suffered a lot this winter as it is, it's tough in Wisconsin and just show some appreciation in the community.

Window cleaner cleaning exterior windows of Adaptive Communities building.

Katie Jones in front of building with window cleaner cleaning windows in the background.

Katie Jones

Director & Owner | Adaptive Communities

Katie Jones: We feel truly honored that you thought of us and we just appreciate all of the help they've given us and so this is just, it's really exciting.

Branded vehicle driving away from Adaptive Communities building.

News Anchor: Very cool. Adaptive Communities recently moved to the 6th Street location.

News Anchor 2: Nice way to pay it forward.